

PATTY FERRANT: Yeah, everyone gets it? All parts -- you get the whole thing? Like, give me a thumbs up if you a hundred percent understand what this means, medium if you are not sure.

Be honest. Be honest. Be honest. Doesn't matter what anybody else has, you have to be honest. This is my way to look. Okay. All right. So if you a hundred percent get this or even if you don't get this, tell me some things you know. What do you know, Chloe? So say that one more time. Your job is to listen, and make sense of what she's saying, and then decide if you agree or disagree with what she's saying.

STUDENT: To get eighteen you have to add the same three whole numbers.

PATTY FERRANT: To get eighteen you have to add the same three whole numbers. Talk to your partner. Do you agree with what she's saying or are you maybe a little confused and not sure?
